This fall our pride is in our $4.50 Suits, and it certainly will go before the fall is very much older, because all the suits will be gone-they are disappearing very rapidly - everybody who sees them is fascinated.

They are well cut, and a great deal depends on the cut of a suit-they set like a charm.

The qualities are all that you would expect from $12 suits.

We can safely recommend them.

Delegation From the Society Watts Upon the Board and Requests That a Formal Invitation Be Extended to the Order to Meet in This City. Mr. Ross Favorable.

this morning by a delegation representing the Union Veteran Legion, with a request for their co-operation in the effort to secure the holding of the national encampment of the order in Washington in the year 1896.

The next encampment will meet Octo ber 16 in Buffalo, N. Y., and the request of the gentlemen who called was that the Commissioners shall signify as the head of the District government the wishes of the people in the matter. This can be done in any manner that the board may select, but the suggestion was made that a letter of invitation be addressed to the Buffalo encampment.

The delegation was received by Commissioner Truesdell, Maj. Powell being engaged and President Ross having been unexpectedly summoned from the city. Mr. Ross was seen, however, prior to his departure, and expressed a decided interest in the matter, stating that he would indorse the action of his colleagues in the tender of an invitation.

AGREE TO THE REQUEST. Gen. M. B. C. Wright presented the matter to Col. Truesdell, and was followed by Capt, Whitney and Col. C. E. Trout-

The Commissioners received the delegation ost courteously and promised that an invitation should be sent, as requested.

The national encampment represents near-ly 35,000 members with subordinate encampments in every State in the Union. The national body comprises about 15,000 members, and its assembling generally at-tracts thousands of strangers to the city that entertains it. It is expected that if a meeting is held in Washington the attendance will be much larger than ever before. The order has in the United States about 150 subordinate encampments INVITED THIS YEAR.

A invitation was extended by the Com-A invitation was extended by the Com-missioners last year for the encampment of 1895 to be held here, but owing to the fact that Washington had a candidate for the office of national commander, with, incidentally, a bid for the headquarters, the matter was not pressed, the Washington comrades expressing themselves as satis-fied with theelevation of Gen.
